Houston vs. Galveston,

Special to the Gazette. Houston, Tex., April 4 .- Houston had the Sand Crabs in the slaughter pen to-day and did them up to the tune of thirteen to four. There was a good crowd out as it was the opening of the season. The pennant won last year floated from the poll at the entrance. France and Flaherty were in the points for the locals and Hennessey and Smith for Galveston. At every point in the game the home club outplayed their rivals, particularly in fielding. ton's errors were never costly, while two made by Kid Peeples hurt Galreston. Flaherty caught a good game and so did Smith. Houston's outfielding was perfect, Vorks and Stenzel for Galveston did good work. Umpire Jamison is fair in his decisions, but lacks firmness, as he allows too much wrang-Ward, the Galveston third baseman makes himself particularly obnoxious and needs Daily to squelch him.

Waco vs. Fort Worth,

Special to the Gazette. WACO, TEX., April 4 .- The first league game at Waco this season was played to-day between Fort Worth and Waco, and it was lively from beginning to end. Both teams felt confident, to begin with, and went in to win. Waco, however had some the advantage in training, and made some splendid plays, scoring five runs in the first inning, which somewhat rattled the Fort boys, and it seemed as if they must lose all through the game. Some lively kicking was done occasionally, but the umpire stood firm, and everything, upon the whole, passed off pleasantly. The following is the official score:

TOPEKA'S WATERWORKS.

Suit Brought at Little Rock to Restrain Certain Farties from Transferring Property and Capital Stock-

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., April 4. - The case of W. S. Scott & Hansen vs. Joab Mulrain of Topeka, Kan., Coffin & Stauton of New York and Woodbury & Moulton, involving title to the waterworks at Topeka, Kan., property worth $500,000, has been argued before Circuit Judge Caldwell for two days on motion to dissolve a temporary injunction granted by the circuit court at Toneka restrain-Joab Mulvain from transferring the property and capital stock of the Topeka water supply company to defendants, Coffin and Stanton Caldwell refused to hear arguments on any of the questions presented to and decided by the circuit court at the term the injunction was but when the injunction was it was stated in the on of the court that the question whether there were not persons who were indispensible parties to the suit who had not been made deendants was not raised, and could not then be and that when the proper parties appeared and filed proper papers to raise that question it would be considered, and if transpired that an indispensible party defendant was a citizen of the same state as plaintiff the injunction would be dissolved for want of jurisdiction. Proper pleadings and proofs were filed before Judge Caldwell, to Then this showing was made. S. Scott & Hanson, the former a resident of Massachusetts, the latter of Maine, claimed to have contracted for the purchase of the Topeka waterworks from Mulrain for $500,000, but he declared their negotiations off, and sold the capital stock to Coffin & Stanton of New York and Woodbury & Moulton of Portland, Me., for $55,000, of which amount $50,000 was paid down. Then W. S. Scott and Hansen obtained an injunction against Mul-rain, restraining him from transferring the roperty or incumbering it in any way. It was hown, further, that defendants were indispenible parties to the suit, and had never been heard; also that Woodbury and Moulton were residents of the same state as Plaintiff Hansen. Judge Caldwell, in ruling in the case, said it was plain the court at Topeka, in accordance with its expressed opinion, dissolved the injunction in the case as now made, and that he would refuse to make an order if that court was now in session, but as the court there had been closed and Judge Foster had by appointment gone to South Dakota to hold court in that state, he would make an order that the circuit court in lopeka would make a decision. He accord ngly dissolved the injunction for the want of uri sdiction in this court over the indispensible

A POLITICAL BOOMERANG.

Fifty-Two Fort Bend People Reindicted by the Federal Grand Jury.

Special to the Gazette. GALVESTON, TEX., April 4 .- The Federal grand ury of the March term reindicted fifty-two of the citizens of Fort Bend county for conspiracy, under the civil rights bill. These are a part of the sixty-eight persons who were indicted at the term of the Federal court, gave bond, and cases dismissed at the recent term of court in consequence of a flaw in the indictment. Next Tuesday is the day set for the arrest of these parties, when it is expected that United States Marshal Dicknson will again invade Fort Bend county with a posse of armed deputies and proceed to arrest and bring the indicted parties to this city, where they will be compelled to give bail or go to jail. A. Cummings, Republican politician and now a prominent Federal office holder here, is accused as being the instigator of these indict-ments, aided by ex-County Judge J. W. Parker, formerly of Fort Bend county. The object of these two is to make political capital, which may result in a boomerang to them. The United States circuit and criminal dis trict courts adjourned to-day. Before adjournment Judge Boarman sentenced E. F. Baker. convicted of robbing the postoffice at Matagorda. Tex., to one year's imprisonment in the house of correction at Detroit, Mich.

"SHO YEE DAY."

New York's Dead Chinamen Made Happy at Their Homes, the Grave.

They are Presented with a Year's Rations, Wives and Servants by Their Living Brethren-A Great Feast-

Special to the Gazette. NEW YORK, April 4 .- Notwithstanding the rain and heavy fog, at least 500 dead Chinamen were made happy to-day at the various New York cemeteries. It was "Sho Yee day," or decoration day among the Chinese of America. On this day the dead Chinamen have a big blowout at their respective residences-the graveswhither their friends and relatives are expected to bring them their annual provisions. These consist not only of choice roasted pigs, chickens and other delicacies of the American and Chinese markets, but even wives and servants. These last are an imperative tribute, although in life deceased may have been bachelors and not rich enough to "hit the pipe" but once a year, they are supposed to have left the misortune of poverty and all others behind them in the body, while their spirits enjoy the life of th nabobs. But these enjoyments must be started to them from this side of the mysterious river. The paper, blouses and money that the devotees burnt on yesterday at the graves are changed into silken garments and the vellow paper slips into pure gold bars to-day in the other world. So were the beautiful paper wives and pretty paper servants of both sexes. There were about 200 of these females reduced to ashes in Evergreen and other cemeteries, and almost as many roasted pigs were set before the graves and afterward swallowed by Chinamen who were not yet dead. Each carriage was followed to the cemetery by a wagon containing roasted pig with decorated tail, ears and hoofs, and several big baskets full of incense, papers and joss sticks, as well as show bread, rice, wines, etc. At about noon there were over fifty carriages ranged at the entrance of the cemetery. Several wagons with the pigs and things were permitted to be driven close to their destination, while the Chinamen walked. One hundred and twenty families were represented. Each company set their own pizs and other delicacies before the

A big square tombstone on the outer edge of Celestial hill is the general altar of the Chinese dead, where it is supposed the spirits of all Chinamen, irrespective of birth, politics and eligion, congregate to receive homage from the heads of Chinese municipality. After the 'layouts' were spread out Ju Sling Pong knelt before the roasted pig, and out of his sleeve he pulled a big roll of paper, which contained the long prayer that he had been preparing for the dead for the past week. He made three low bows and then lighted the paper from forty-nine little red candles. While the paper was yet blazing he threw in the paper money and the paper mer and women—then three more salaams. An attendant poured out three cups of wine and handed them to Ju, which he spilled with a swaggering motion into the fire, saying at the same time, "These, my noble lords, are the small tokens of Chinatown's great regards. Please accept with our prayer. Three more salaams and the roasted pigs and other substantials were gathered up and were put back into the wagon, when the Chinamen lrove back home and prepared to devour the pigs of the dead to-night.

WEATHER CROP NOTES.

AT DOANS.

Correspondence to the Gazette. Doans, Tex., April 2.-We had a splendid rain yesterday which has done an immense lot of good and changed the farmers' long face to one of smiles. Yesterday morning wheat was dying and oats not coming up on account of dry weather. To-day all is changed, and unless some unforeseen accident occurs, the wheat and oats crops of Wilbarger county is assured. We will have some peaches and plums, though the freeze in February very near killed all of them. Cattle are looking and doing well.

AT GRAPEVINE.

Correspondence of the Gazette. GRAPEVINE, TEX., April 3 .- The rain that fell on yesterday and the day before has done a great deal of good to the wheat. It is thought that the insect that is damaging it will now disappear. Corn is all planted and most of it up and ready for the plow.

Quite all of the fruit was killed in this section. About all that will be left are plums and blackberries.

AT FORT DAVIS.

Correspondence of the Gazette. FORT DAVIS, TEX., April 1 .- A norther blew up yesterday evening, and it has gradually been turning colder ever since. A slow rain fell last night, and this morning the fences and trees were all covered with ice. This remarkably cold weather for the season of the year is a veritable April fool to every one. There is no indication of a moderation in the weather up to the present time.

AT KAUFMAN.

Correspondence of the Gazette. KAUFMAN, TEX., April 1 .- It has been raining incessantly here for the last thirty-six hours with a cold northwest wind and no appearance of stopping at this writing. The streams are swollen to overflowing and much damage has been done to lowland farms, especially where they have been plowed up. Heavy rains are reported from the southern and eastern portions of the AT COMANCHE.

Chicago World's Fair Meeting.

CHICAGO, ILL., April 4 .- There was a crowd of more than 5000 people in front of Battery Debis morning long before the hall was opened for the admission of stockholders of the World's fair. The meeting called for to-day as for the purpose of selecting directors. The proving of proxies and regular subscriptions began at 10 o'clock, a force of over 10) clerks being engaged in the work. The hall was altogether too small and the cierks too few, and the jam was frightful, leading to much confusion. The list of forty directors to be elected had been agreed on in advance, and among them are the following well-known Chicagoans: Owen F. Algers, San W. Alerton, W. T. Baker, T. B. Ryan, M. L. Crawford, ex-president of the Typographical union, Mayor Creiger, G. R. Davis, Schrish, L. Gage, E. J. Jeffery, S. L. Lettery, C. S. McCormack, J. Medill, Potter Palmer and Ferd F. Book.

In the latter part of winter my skin commenced cracking open I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs.
